Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-65, 67-236 are currently pending in the application.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 67 is objected to because of the following informalities: claim 67 is depending on canceled claim 66. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 1-19, 233, 20-38, 234, 39-57, 77-114, 235, 115-152, 236, 153-190, 191-228 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Regarding claims 39-57, 153-190, according to page 53 of Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility "A computer program product encoded in computer readable media" is non-statutory subject matter.

"Computer Programs Representing Computer Listing Per Se, i.e., the descriptions or expression of the programs, are not physical "things." They are neither computer components nor statutory processes, as they are not "acts" being performed. Such claimed computer programs do not define any structural and functional interrelationships between the computer program and other claimed elements of a computer which permit the computer program's functionality to be realized. In contrast, a claimed computer-readable medium encoded with a computer program is a computer element which defines structural and functional interrelationships between the computer program and the rest of the computer which permit the computer program's functionality to be realized, and is thus statutory. See Lowry, 32 F.3d at 1583-84, 32 USPQ2d at 1035.

Regarding claims 1-19, 233, 20-38, 234, 39-57, 77-114, 235, 115-152, 236, 153-190, 191-228 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 101 because there is no physical transformation and claims do not produce useful and tangible result.

According to Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility, to satisfy section 101 requirements, the claim must be for a practical application of the 101 judicial exception, which can be identified in various ways:

The claims invention "transforms" an article or physical object to a different state or thing.

The claimed invention otherwise produces a useful, concrete and tangible result.

In the instant application, a communication terminal and method as a whole has no physical structure, does not itself perform any useful concrete and tangible result, and thus are non-statutory.
